Manufactured to suit every need

In Altra we are specialists with long experience in the manufacture of coils and transformers. In this short presentation we highlight our strengths that make us stand out in the market for both quality and flexibility.

Visit our website to learn more about us and our products. We can visit you in your own company to show our products and address technical issues as needed. Please contact us for any question about Altra products and services.

- We manufacture custom made coils, transformers and amplifiers, adapting our production to the requirements of each client.
- We adapt our products to the requests of the design cabinets and R & D departments of your company.
- We have extensive experience on low and medium power for the rail market.
- In addition to manufacturers, we specialize in the repair of coils and transformers.
- We have a thorough quality control, adapted to the most current certifications and approvals.
- We respond quickly to any request by the client.
- We will attend your request of technical and commercial information about our toroidal coils and transformers, power and audio, in person. Similarly, we respond with direct contact to the demands of the departments of design and assembly of circuits.
